Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

DETAILED ACTION

This action is responsive to communication filed on February 27, 2007.

Response to Amendment

The examiner acknowledges the amendment of claims 1-2.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed February 27, 2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues on page 7 that the reference of Bernier fail to disclose simultaneously providing an indication of a possible new value of the preset representative of a different sound signal. It is the examiner's position that the reference of Bernier teaches displaying an indication of a value (channel number shown in banner 740 in figure 7) currently representative of a preset sound source (channel) and simultaneously providing an indication of a new value of the preset representative of a different sound signal source (the channel numbers shown in banner (780) (paragraph 055-056). The user is further provided with the option of using the remote control to select the new value (channel) (paragraph 045).

Regarding applicant's argument regarding claim 9-10, the reference of Bernier teaches enabling a user of a remote control to indicate possible new value of a preset sound signal source by displaying a list of channel and highlighting the channel to be added to the list of favorite channel and the channel to be added to the list of favorite channel is confirmed by pressing the add favorite button (paragraph 089). The operation of the second device (TV) is change before confirming the new value of the sound source because the display of the TV is change to indicate the possible new favorite channel (paragraph 088).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-4, 6, 8-10, and 12-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Bernier US Patent Application Publication 20040040039.

Regarding claim 1, Bernier teaches providing the user of a control device (remote control), an indication of a value (channel number shown in banner 740 in figure 7) currently representative of a preset sound source (channel) and simultaneously providing an indication of a new value of the preset representative of a different sound signal source (the channel numbers shown in banner (780) (paragraph 055-056). Bernier teaches further teaches the user is provide with the option of using the remote control to select the new value (channel) (paragraph 045)

Regarding claim 2, Bernier teaches the preset is associated with multimedia system (figure 7).

Regarding claim 3, Bernier teaches the multi-media system comprises an audio system (paragraph 055).

Regarding claim 4, Bernier teaches the indication comprises graphical items such as numbers on the display (figure 7).

Regarding claim 6, Bernier teaches the user confirms the new preset value by selecting a channel number displayed on the screen using the select button (paragraph 45).

Regarding claim 8, Bernier teaches the value comprises an identifier of a station (paragraph 055).

Regarding claim 9, Bernier teaches enabling a user of a remote control to indicate possible new value of a preset sound signal source by displaying a list of channel and highlighting the channel to be added to the list of favorite channel and the channel to be added to the list of favorite channel is confirmed by pressing the add favorite button (paragraph 089). The operation of the second device (TV) is change before confirming the new value of the sound source because the display of the TV is change to indicate the possible new favorite channel (paragraph 088).

Regarding claim 10, Bernier teaches the value comprises an identifier of a station (paragraph 055).

Regarding claim 12, Bernier teaches the sound signal source comprises the movie (item to be performed) to shown (figure 7)

Regarding claim 13, Bernier teaches providing the user of a control device (remote control), an indication of a values of recently invoke presets such as the channel number shown in banner 740 and channel number shown in banner 710 (paragraph 055). The channel number is representative of a sound signal source.

Regarding claim 14, Bernier teaches selecting a channel listed in area 780 of the display screen and the selected channel changes the operation of the TV by causing the new program selected to be displayed in area 730 of the display (paragraph 056).

Regarding claim 15, Bernier teaches displaying values of possible selection of sound signal sources at one level of a hierarchy values by displaying a list of favorite channel category (figure 16) and enabling a user to select one of the values at the one level of the hierarchy, and while at least a portion of the one level of the hierarchy is displayed (figure 19A), showing possible selections at a second, lower level of the hierarchy that correspond to the one of the values selected by the user, at least another portion of the one level being obscured (paragraph 073-074).

Regarding claim 16, Bernier teaches displaying an identification of the level of the hierarchy (favorite channel categories) currently displayed 9figure 18).

Regarding applicant's argument regarding claims 5, 7, and 11, the reference of Allport teaches downloading TV programming to the remote control to be viewed on the display (col. 7 lines 58-67) and the motivation for combining the reference of Bernier and Allport is provided by Allport because Allport teaches displaying information on the remote control in order to avoid affecting the viewing screen of the TV in order to display control information (col. 3 lines 35-38).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 5, 7, and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bernier US Patent Application Publication 20040040039 in view of Allport US Patent 6104334.

Regarding claim 5, Bernier teaches the display is provided by the television (figure 7) and is silent on teaching the display is part of the control device. Allport in an art invention in the same field of endeavor of remote control teaches the control device (10) providing a displaying current preset of a sound source (col. 5 lines 5 –49, col. 5 lines 59-65, col. 7 lines 58-67) and shown in figure 5.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify the remote control system of Bernier as disclosed by Allport because this allows the remote control functions without directly interfacing with the television screen and further extending the reach of the remote control.

Regarding claim 7, Bernier teaches the control device communicate with the television (second device) to effect the new preset value (paragraph 061).

Regarding claim 11, Bernier teaches an audio sound source (paragraph 055) but is silent on teaching the station comprises a radio station and another device comprises a radio receiver. Allport in an art invention in the same field of endeavor of remote control teaches the sound source is a radio broadcast (col. 27 lines 1-15) and a radio receiver is inherently used to reproduce the broadcast sound from a radio station.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify the remote control system of Bernier as disclosed by Allport because a radio station is a sound source use to broadcast audio signal to a radio receiver.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event,
